BROOKFIELD JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB and the CITY OF BROOKFIELD are hosting the third annual Chili Cooking Contest event at Mitchell Park Pavilion on October 7, 2007, 1:00-3:30. Proceeds from the event will go to various Brookfield Junior Woman's Club Charities including the program Juniors Care for Kids which benefits students of the Elmbrook School District. We appreciate the generosity and support of our community.

Chili Cooking Contest (1:00-3:00)
CALLING ALL CHILI COOKS! Does your chili have an amusing kick? Do you slip in a special top-secret ingredient passed down through generations? Have you mastered the perfect blend of spices? Let Brookfield be the judge and show us what you've got!

Family Activities
 Highlights for the entire family include; hayrides in Mitchell Park, face painting, relay races, contests, and a play area for children ages 0-4. (sponsored by Babies'R Us). For a small additional fee... make your own scarecrow! Prizes will be awarded to the cutest cowboy/cowgirl.

Chili Tasting
 Adult ticket holders may sample all chili entries and vote for their favorite recipe. (while supplies last)

Enjoy a delicious lunch
 Milwaukee Brewers' hotdogs, brats, popcorn, chips, nachos and refreshments will be available for purchase. All proceeds from food sales will benefit BJWC programs. Thank you Milwaukee Brewers for your generous donation. Children's meals will also be available.

Chili Eating Contest
 How much chili can YOU eat in a short amount of time? Enter our chili eating contest for a chance to be awarded Brookfield's Chili Eating Champion.
